

Barnes & Noble Bookfair Holiday Recital Dec. 2, 2023

What to bring:

1. This page if you have notes on it, otherwise, one will be attached to the music stand at B & N.
2. Your studio's program, with the vouchers printed on the back. Make enough copies for your studio and maybe an extra 10-15 to hand out to other customers who walk by. (if you have a parent or two along the perimeter, ask them to hand out the extras to others who wander in to listen.)
3. Leave one of your programs in the large envelope on the music stand for the CNYAMT Historian.
4. Anything you need specifically for your studio: music stands, cushions, foot boxes, etc.

The Conclusion of your Program: Please end your program 10 minutes before the next studio start time to take pictures, straighten chairs, and clean up.

- LEAVE A PROGRAM in the large envelope on the music stand.
- Have one of your parents take a group studio picture for you to submit to Joanne for the website.
- Please reset the performance area by picking up programs, paper items, and straightening the chairs as a courtesy to the studio performing after you.

Introduction before your performance:

Welcome to our Central New York Association of Music Teachers Bookfair Fundraiser! My name is _____, and this is my _____ studio. We would like to thank Barnes and Noble for their support of our organization and the opportunity to have our students perform.

CNYAMT is an organization that was formed in 1931 and our current membership includes about 65 piano, voice, and instrumental music teachers who participate in joint recitals, workshops, masterclasses, and competitions.

We work together to earn money each year for our Student Scholarships and Tuition Assistance Programs. Remember to use your voucher at checkout so that your purchases will count towards our Bookfair. Also, check your receipt to ensure it has the voucher number on it. Please remain at the conclusion of our performance for our studio's group picture.

Closing comments:

Thank you so much for your support here today. Please feel free to shop and use your voucher at checkout today. Thanks again to Barnes & Noble and we ask that as soon as the group picture is taken, please quickly move from our stage area to make room for the next studio so that they can start on time.
